NARRATIVE DISCUSSION

BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The Royal Canadian Mint (the “Mint”) prepared this report as required by section 131.1 of the *Financial Administration Act*¹ using the standard issued by the Treasury Board of Canada Secretariat. This narrative should be read in conjunction with the unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements.

The Mint prepared these unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements for the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026 and March 29, 2025 in compliance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). Although the Mint’s year-end of December 31 matches the calendar year-end, the Mint’s quarter end dates do not necessarily coincide with calendar year quarters; instead, each of the Mint’s quarters contains 13 weeks. In 2026, the first 13 weeks included 87 days compared to 88 days in the first 13 weeks of 2025. Financial results reported in this narrative are presented in Canadian dollars and rounded to the nearest million, unless otherwise noted. The information in this narrative is current to May 21, 2026, unless otherwise noted.

MATERIALITY

In assessing what information to provide in this narrative, management applies the materiality principle as guidance for disclosure. Management considers information material if its omission or misstatement could reasonably be expected to influence decisions that the primary users make based on the financial information included in this narrative.

FORWARD LOOKING STATEMENTS

Readers are advised to refer to the cautionary language included at the end of this narrative when reading any forward-looking statements.

NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES

This narrative includes non-GAAP financial measures which are clearly denoted where presented. Non-GAAP financial measures are not standardized under IFRS and might not be comparable to similar financial measures disclosed by other corporations reporting under IFRS.

OVERVIEW OF THE CORE MANDATE AND THE BUSINESS

The Royal Canadian Mint is a Crown corporation owned solely by the Government of Canada. It is required by the Royal Canadian Mint Act to mint coins and to carry out other related activities in anticipation of profit. The Mint aims to be an agile, resilient Crown corporation focused on the future and prepared to act on opportunities to create value for Canada. The Mint has two primary businesses: Circulation and Precious Metals.

Circulation Business

The Royal Canadian Mint is Canada's national mint and a global leader in circulation coinage and precious metals. As part of its core mandate, the Mint manages the circulation of Canada's coinage from its weekly forecasting and world-class production to eventual retirement. This end-to-end responsibility, along with the management of inventories across the nation, enables the Mint to effectively deliver a reliable and inclusive payment option for Canadians. The Mint recycles and re-distributes coins which reduces the need to produce more coins and extends the life span and usage of those coins already circulating.

On behalf of the Government of Canada, the Mint operates a Commemorative Coin Program (CCP) to celebrate Canada's history, diversity, culture and values. In addition to its core mandate, the Mint is also responsible for the Alloy Recovery Program (ARP) which removes older-composition Canadian coins from the coin pool system and replaces them with more durable and secure multi-ply plated steel (MPPS) coins.

The Foreign Circulation business produces and supplies innovative finished coins, coin blanks and tokens to customers around the world, including central banks, mints, monetary authorities and finance ministries. The Mint also produces high technology dies for international customers, allowing countries to strike their own coins. These contracts leverage the infrastructure and industry-leading expertise in the Mint's Winnipeg manufacturing facility.

Precious Metals Business

The Bullion Products & Services business provides critical support to the essential Canadian mining and financial sectors through its market-leading precious metal investment coin and bar products, supported by integrated precious metal refining, storage and exchange traded receipts (ETR) capabilities. These products include the Maple Leaf family of gold and silver coins, as well as other precious metal products and services for investment and manufacturing purposes. As a market leader in the industry with bullion products and services of the highest quality and security, the Mint is well positioned to capture a leading share of any increase in demand while sustaining volumes during softer markets. The Mint has issued ETRs under its Canadian Gold Reserves (TSX: MNT/MNT.U) and Canadian Silver Reserves (TSX:

These programs contribute to the efficient operation of the Mint's production facilities, including reduced precious metal lease requirements, while generating management fee revenue.

The Numismatics business designs, manufactures and sells collectible coins to a loyal customer base in Canada and around the world. The medals division proudly provides medals to many Canadian public institutions to recognize and celebrate outstanding accomplishments of Canadians. The Mint's global leadership in the art and science of minting is consistently recognized around the world. This recognition is largely earned by innovative technology enhancements, such as glow in the dark paint, selective plating, the Opulence line, hybrid products and the use of vibrant colour that allow the Mint to create unique and compelling products. The Mint also offers premium bullion products which are precious metal coins featuring collectible attributes such as mintage and design, giving them collectible appeal and value beyond their metal content. The Mint sells numismatic products through its outbound sales and e-commerce platforms, and through its boutiques in Ottawa and Winnipeg, as well as through its dealers and partners, both domestically and internationally.

SIGNIFICANT CORPORATE EVENTS

Canada's Two-dollar Circulation Coin Turns 30

Thirty years ago, Canadians were introduced to a new two-dollar circulation coin that replaced banknotes of the same value. Following the successful transition to a one-dollar circulation coin in 1987, Canadians quickly warmed up to their new bi-metallic, polar bear-themed coin which they soon nicknamed the "Toonie". Since February 19, 1996, over one billion Toonies, featuring an iconic polar bear reverse (or tails) design, as well as a multitude of commemorative versions, have circulated from coast to coast to coast.

New Coin Offerings

Black History Silver Coin Series

The Mint's 2026 $20 Fine Silver Coin – Commemorating Black History: Adinkra Symbols pays homage to the rich ancestral heritage of Ghana's Akan people. Their visual iconography expressing values, proverbs, and historical wisdom has strongly influenced West African culture and holds profound meaning for many Black Canadians.

New Coins to Commemorate The Royal Canadian Legion

On January 13, 2026, one hundred years after the incorporation of the country's largest veteran support and community service organization, known today as The Royal Canadian Legion (the Legion), the Mint has issued finely crafted pure gold and silver coins to recognize the Legion's 100th anniversary. The Legion's century-long mission of supporting Veterans, including serving military, and RCMP members and their families, promoting Remembrance, and serving Canada and its communities is celebrated on the 2026 $100 Pure Gold Coin, the 2026 Fine Silver Proof Dollar, and the 2026 Fine Silver Proof Set.

Sustainability Initiatives (ESG)

Canadian Circulation Coinage Survey of Canadians

The Mint received new insights from a recently completed national survey on Canadians' use of circulation coinage. Cash continues to play a meaningful role in small, everyday purchases, even as usage narrows to lower-value transactions. While cash remains widely accepted, Canadians report encountering an increasing number of card-only environments and feeling pressure to pay digitally, though strong support persists for ensuring businesses accept cash. Although inflation is shifting some behaviour toward greater use of credit and debit cards, overall cash-management habits remain stable, and most Canadians do not foresee abandoning cash, valuing it for practicality, accessibility, and privacy. These insights support responsible stewardship of coin production, opportunities to reduce environmental impacts through optimized lifecycle management, and the importance of maintaining accessible payment options for all Canadians.

National Capital Region's Top Employers (2026)

On March 3, 2026, the Mint was selected as one of the National Capital Region's Top Employers (2026) for the sixth consecutive year. Its strong focus on employee wellbeing, learning and development and support during life's key moments were highlighted in this recognition.

OPERATING HIGHLIGHTS AND ANALYSIS OF RESULTS

To achieve its objectives, the Mint strives to continually improve profitability through prudent financial management and efficient operations. The Mint measures its performance by using metrics meaningful to its Shareholder, customers, business partners and employees. The measures below allow the Mint to monitor its capacity to improve performance and create value for its Shareholder and for Canada.

	13 weeks ended
	March 28, 2026	March 29, 2025	$ Change	% Change

² Profit (loss) before tax and other items margin is a non-GAAP financial measure and its calculation is based on profit (loss) before income tax and other items.

Profit for the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026 was $14.2 million higher than the same period in 2025. The stronger performance was impacted by higher revenues across both business areas supported by higher precious metal storage redemption revenue, higher gold market pricing, increased bullion market demand for silver, and higher foreign circulation coin volumes sold combined with favourable changes in the mix of contracts. Results also reflect a decrease in the cost of precious metal leases required for the Mint's operations due to mitigation measures undertaken to counter heightened global uncertainty, including new and on-going geo-political tensions, tariff-driven trade volatility and sharply rising precious metal prices. Favourable results were partially offset by an unfavourable change of $15.2 million on the revaluation of the Face Value redemptions liability, which is based on the market price of silver and is recognized only to the extent of the Face Value liability.

The Mint takes an integrated approach to managing its Circulation and Precious Metals businesses. This approach allows the Mint to allocate resources within these businesses in order to respond to customer and market demands.

Canadian Circulation

During the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026, revenues from the Canadian Circulation Program decreased 8% to $17.4 million compared to $18.9 million in the same period in 2025. The decrease is mainly due to a lower volume of circulation coins as well as lower program fees, in accordance with the memorandum of understanding with the Department of Finance.

Coin supply

(in millions of coins)	13 weeks ended

Total coin supply	413	418	(5)	(1)

Demand is met through the three main sources of supply outlined in the above table and is subject to variability across regions of the country and seasonality depending on the time of the year. In the first 13 weeks of 2026, 96% of financial institution demand was met by re-circulating coins, with the remainder met by new coins.

Financial institution deposits are the primary coin supply channel that fulfills coin demand and are typically made up of coins from retail, transit, parking, vending, etc. In the first 13 weeks of 2026, financial institution deposits were 6% lower compared to the same period in 2025.

Department of Finance Inventory

(in millions of dollars)	As at

New coins sold to financial institutions and others	(4.9)	(4.6)	(0.3)
Ending inventory	$ 100.9	$ 110.0	(9.1)

The Mint actively manages inventory supply levels from financial institution deposits, recycling kiosk volumes and new coin production to ensure coinage demand is met efficiently and cost-effectively throughout the year. The face value of the Department of Finance owned inventory at March 28, 2026 was $100.9 million, which was within the inventory limit outlined in the Mint's memorandum of understanding with the Department of Finance.

Foreign Circulation

Revenue from the Foreign Circulation business increased for the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026 to $25.9 million compared to $9.9 million in the same period in 2025. The increase in foreign circulation revenue is due to 112% higher volumes produced and shipped year over year and reflects changes in the mix of contracts.

Bullion Products and Services net revenue for the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026 increased 117% compared to the same period in 2025. The increase in revenue was mainly driven by higher gold and silver market pricing combined with higher silver net bullion volumes sold. The increase was also impacted by heightened volatility in metal prices, which created arbitrage opportunities and resulted in higher storage redemption volumes and corresponding redemption revenue for the quarter.

Numismatics

Numismatics revenue increased 59% to $56.5 million during the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026 from $35.5 million in the same period of 2025. The increase in revenue was primarily due to a new product launch, an increase in selling price as a result of higher metal costs, as well as strong sales of premium bullion and gold products.

¹ Comparative information has been reclassified as described in Note 24 of the Corporation's audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025.

Cost of sales for the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026 increased to $749.4 million compared to $368.3 million during the same period in 2025. The overall increase in cost of sales was in line with an increase of 107% in overall revenue and reflects higher precious metal market prices, partially offset by lower precious metal lease costs.

Overall, operating expenses for the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026 increased 5% to $30.3 million from $28.8 million in the same period in 2025 primarily due to higher consulting expenses to support the digital program and business transformation and higher donations.

Face Value revaluation gain decreased $15.2 million compared to the same period in 2025 as the value of the precious metal content of the coins redeemed is based on the market price of silver in Canadian dollars, which decreased 3% for the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026 compared to an increase of 16% for the 13 weeks ended March 29, 2025.

Other expenses for the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026 decreased $1.8 million as the comparative for 2025 reflect costs incurred on a lost shipment related to a revenue contract which were largely recovered through insurance.

Income tax expense increased $4.7 million compared to the same period in 2025, which is in line with the increase in profit before income tax quarter over quarter.

Cash flow used in investing activities	$ (2.6)	$ (5.0)	2.4
Cash flow used in financing activities	$ (0.5)	$ (0.5)	-

Cash used in operating activities for the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026 decreased $9.6 million compared to the same period in 2025 primarily due to higher net cash inflows from the Precious Metals and Circulation businesses, partially offset by the timing of billings and receipts from customers and planned inventory builds ahead of the new ERP implementation.

Cash used in investing activities decreased $2.4 million for the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026, as compared to the same period in 2025, mainly due to capital spend returning to normal levels in 2026 as the investments in production equipment for the Winnipeg and Ottawa plants as part of the implementation of the One Mint Strategy were largely complete.

Borrowing facilities

See note 16 in the December 31, 2025 audited consolidated financial statements for details on the Mint's borrowing facilities. The Mint entered and closed the period with a total outstanding long-term loan of $6 million, which is within the Mint's approved borrowing limit as prescribed by the Royal Canadian Mint Act. The Mint entered the period with a long-term debt-to-equity ratio of 1:41 and closed the period with a long-term debt-to-equity ratio of 1:43.

INCOME TAX AND OTHER ITEMS

Profit (loss) before income tax and other items is a non-GAAP financial measure used by management and other stakeholders to compare the Mint's financial results before the impact of non-cash changes in valuations, taxes and other items. A reconciliation from profit for the period to profit (loss) before income tax and other items is as follows:

	13 weeks ended
	March 28, 2026	March 29, 2025
Profit for the period	$ 16.2	$ 2.0

Profit (loss) before income tax and other items	$ 23.2	$ (8.9)

¹Gain on net foreign exchange and derivative instruments for the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026 excludes a loss of $1.0 million (2025 - $nil million) related to the mitigation of the commodity price risk and the foreign exchange risk for specific contracts.

² Face Value revaluation is the non-cash impact of the change in the valuation of the precious metal component of the Face Value redemptions liability which excludes the impact of a foreign exchange gain of $2.2 million (2025 - $0.4 million loss).

RISKS TO PERFORMANCE

Management considers risks and opportunities at all levels of decision making. The Mint's performance is influenced by many factors, including economic conditions, financial and commodity market volatility, and competitive pressures. Also, as a Crown corporation governed under a legislative framework, the Mint's performance could be impacted by changes to Shareholder objectives or to the directions given by governing bodies. Under the guidance of the Board of Directors, the Mint's enterprise risk management process is undertaken by Management. It focuses on the identification, assessment and management, within the risk appetite of the Board of Directors, of the key risks, that could impact the achievement of the Mint's strategic objectives. As part of its oversight process, the Board of Directors approves risk appetite statements, reviews the Mint's strategic risk profile and has input into the broader risk management approach.

The Mint's enterprise risk management framework and practices are consistent with guidance issued by the Treasury Board and is subject to periodic review by its internal auditor. Guidance in relation to risk awareness and risk management is provided to staff where necessary. Appropriate risk management requirements are embedded in staff responsibilities.

MANAGEMENT REPORT

A register of key strategic risks is maintained, together with a series of operational risk registers covering each of the Mint's business/support areas. These registers are updated regularly and evolve as new risks are identified and existing ones are mitigated.

The key corporate-level risks that could materially impact the Mint's ability to achieve its strategic objectives are identified in the Mint's 2025 Annual Report. While there have been some changes to these risks, none were material.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES, ADOPTION OF NEW ACCOUNTING STANDARDS AND ACCOUNTING POLICY DEVELOPMENTS

See note 3 in the audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025 for a discussion of critical accounting estimates, as well as note 4 in the accompanying unaudited condensed financial statements for the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026 for a discussion regarding the adoption of new accounting standards and accounting policy developments.

OUTLOOK

The financial goal for 2026 is a profit before tax and other items of $8.5 million, as approved in the Mint's 2026-2030 Corporate Plan.

This Corporate Plan marks the final year of the current three-year strategic cycle and concludes the One Mint initiatives and transformative investments launched in 2021. Through the One Mint strategy, the Mint has evolved from a traditional coin producer into a data-driven coin manager, gaining global recognition for leadership in currency production and serving as a key domestic partner to Canada's mining and financial sectors.

Building on this transformation, and as Canada continues its transition toward a digital economy, Management and the Board of Directors have launched a forward-looking planning process to define a long-term strategic vision that will underpin the 2027–2031 Corporate Plan.

The Mint is actively managing the impact of economic and geopolitical events around the globe, including the uncertainty related to trade barriers, on the demand for its products, their cost, and on its global supplier network. Management has established contingency plans, when required, to support the business.

branches and merchant locations continue to find ways to optimize their efficiency with coin handling.

Much, however, depends upon consumer and merchant behaviours in the face of continued market uncertainty. Their actions will shape the rate at which various coin denominations flow through the ecosystem.

The Mint continues to coordinate with distribution stakeholders to ensure all regional coin inventories are able to meet any shifts in requirements. Consumer surveys, industry stakeholder discussions, and internal data analysis also help ensure the Mint remains informed on changing market needs.

Foreign circulation

The Mint continues to leverage its position as the only top-tier, fully integrated mint in the world to secure large volume business with both current and new customers. While the global addressable demand for coins and blanks over the next twelve months is expected to be between 7 and 9 billion pieces, the Mint will remain strategic in managing capacity to maximize returns. The Mint expects to maintain its leadership status in the industry, and it expects demand to remain high for the foreseeable future.

Precious metals business

The Mint's metal procurement activities support two businesses with fundamentally different risk profiles. Bullion sales are executed on a fixing basis and therefore carry minimal commodity price risk. Numismatic sales, however, require forward metal procurement to support production and customer price stability, creating inherent exposure to market movements. Hedging is therefore a critical risk management tool for the Mint. Given the extreme volatility experienced in last 12 months and expectations for continued elevated volatility through the balance of 2026, disciplined hedging execution will remain essential.

Bullion products and services

The Mint continues to monitor its market share and reviews the pricing and mix of its bullion products as market conditions evolve. In the next twelve months, the Mint will continue to focus on its customers, market and distribution strategies, gold refining, gold and silver bullion products and selective storage opportunities in support of its market share.

Numismatics

The Mint continues to prioritize being a customer-centric organization focused on enhancing the customer experience and improving the long-term performance of the Numismatics business. The Mint continues to implement and pursue product strategies intended to reach new customers in new and emerging markets.

1. NATURE AND DESCRIPTION OF THE CORPORATION

The Royal Canadian Mint (the Mint or the Corporation) was incorporated in 1969 by the Royal Canadian Mint Act to mint coins and carry out other related activities. The Corporation is an agent corporation of His Majesty named in Part II of Schedule III to the Financial Administration Act. It produces all of the circulation coins used in Canada and manages the Canadian circulation coin life cycle for the Government of Canada.

In 2015, the Corporation was issued a directive (P.C. 2015-1107) pursuant to section 89 of the Financial Administration Act to align its travel, hospitality, conference and event expenditure policies, guidelines and practices with Treasury Board policies, directives and related instruments in a manner that is consistent with its legal obligations. The directive also requires the Corporation to report on the implementation of this directive in its Corporate Plan. The Corporation has complied with this directive since 2015.

In January 2026, the Corporation was issued a directive (P.C. 2026-0015) pursuant to section 89 of the Financial Administration Act to align its policies, guidelines and practices with the Buy Canadian Procurement Policy Framework and the policy instruments issued under section 6 thereof, in a manner that is consistent with the mandate. The Corporation plans on reporting on the implementation of this directive in its next Corporate Plan.

As part of its core mandate, the Corporation produces coins for Canadian trade and commerce, and manages the country's coin system for optimum efficiency and cost. It is also an LBMA Good Delivery gold and silver refiner, a world-renowned manufacturer of precious metals investment products and collectibles, and produces coins for foreign countries.

The Corporation is a prescribed federal Crown corporation for income tax purposes and is subject to federal income taxes under the Income Tax Act.

While the Corporation is not subject to federal income taxes in the United States of America as its primary operations are based in Canada, it is subject to state income taxes in certain U.S. states due to its sales activities and economic presence within those states.

2. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

2.1 Statement of Compliance

These condensed consolidated financial statements were prepared in accordance with IAS 34 Interim Financial Reporting ("IAS 34") of the International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") and the Directive on Accounting Standards: GC 5200 Crown Corporations Quarterly Financial Reports issued by the Treasury Board of Canada. As permitted under these standards, these condensed consolidated financial statements do not include all of the disclosure requirements for annual consolidated financial statements and should be read in conjunction with the Corporation's audited consolidated financial statements for its fiscal year ended December 31, 2025.

These condensed consolidated financial statements have not been audited or reviewed by an external auditor.

2.2 Basis of presentation

These condensed consolidated financial statements were prepared in accordance with IFRS.

Although the Corporation's year end of December 31 matches the calendar year end, the Corporation's quarter end dates do not necessarily coincide with calendar year quarters; instead, each of the Corporation's quarters contains 13 weeks.

These condensed consolidated financial statements were approved for public release by the Board of Directors of the Corporation on May 21, 2026.

2.3 Consolidation

These condensed consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the Corporation and its wholly-owned subsidiary RCMH-MRCF Inc. which has been operationally inactive since December 31, 2008. All intercompany transactions, balances, income and expenses are eliminated in full upon consolidation.

2.4 Foreign currency translation

Unless otherwise stated, all figures reported in these condensed consolidated financial statements and disclosures are reflected in thousands of Canadian dollars (CAD), which is the functional and presentation currency of the Corporation.

3. KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY AND CRITICAL JUDGEMENTS

The preparation of these condensed consolidated financial statements requires the Corporation's management to exercise judgement to make complex or subjective estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the condensed consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period.

In making estimates and using assumptions, management relies on external information and observable conditions where possible, supplemented by internal analysis as required. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ significantly from the estimates and assumptions. The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

Significant judgements and estimates as at March 28, 2026, were consistent with those disclosed in Note 3 of the Corporation's audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025.

4. APPLICATION OF NEW AND REVISED IFRS PRONOUNCEMENTS

4.1 New and revised IFRS pronouncements affecting amounts reported and/or disclosed in the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2026.

The Corporation reviewed the new and revised accounting pronouncements that were issued and had mandatory effective dates of annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2026. The pronouncements did not have an impact on the consolidated financial statements.

4.2 New and revised IFRS pronouncements issued, but not yet effective

The Corporation reviewed the revised accounting pronouncements that have been issued, but are not yet effective.

Primary Financial Statements

In April 2024, the IASB issued IFRS 18 – Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements to replace IAS 1 - Presentation of Financial Statements. IFRS 18 improves the reporting of financial performance through the addition of detailed requirements for subtotals in the statement of profit and loss, introduction of required classification of income and expenses, disclosures about management-defined performance measures and adding new principles for the aggregation and disaggregation of information. These amendments have an effective date for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2027. The Corporation is currently assessing the potential impact from the adoption of these amendments on its consolidated financial statements.

The Corporation reviewed its credit risk exposure related to contract assets as at March 28, 2026 and evaluated the risk to be minimal. Each related contract is subject to a contract specific risk assessment process. 8. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS AND FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

8.1 Capital risk management

The Corporation may borrow money from the Consolidated Revenue Fund or any other source, subject to the approval of the Minister of Finance and National Revenue with respect to the time and term and conditions. Since March 1999, following the enactment of changes to the Royal Canadian Mint Act, the total amount outstanding at any time shall not exceed $75 million. For the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026 and year ended December 31, 2025, approved short-term borrowings for working capital needs within this limit were not to exceed $41 million or the US dollar equivalent. From time to time, the Corporation may seek approval for new long-term borrowings. As at March 28, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Corporation had no new long-term borrowings for those ending fiscal periods. The Corporation's long-term borrowings are described in note 16 of its audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025.

To support such short-term borrowings, as may be required from time to time, the Corporation has various commercial borrowing lines of credit, made available to it by Canadian financial institutions. These lines are unsecured and provide for borrowings up to 364 days in term based on negotiated rates. No amounts were borrowed under these lines of credit as at March 28, 2026 or December 31, 2025.

The Corporation employs a dividend framework to calculate dividends payable to its Shareholder. The calculated dividend amount represents projected excess year end cash over a pre-determined cash reserve requirement and is generally paid in the fourth quarter of each year.

8.2 Classification and fair value measurements of financial instruments

8.2.1 Classification and fair value measurement techniques of financial instruments

The Corporation holds financial instruments in the form of cash, trade receivables, net and other receivables, derivative assets, trade payables, other payables and accrued liabilities, loan payable and derivative liabilities.

The Corporation estimated the fair values of its financial instruments as follows:

- i) The carrying amounts of cash, trade receivables, net and other receivables and trade payables, other payables and accrued liabilities approximate their fair values as a result of the relatively short-term nature of these financial instruments.
- ii) The fair value of the loan payable is estimated based on a discounted cash flow approach using current market rates.
- iii) The fair values of the Corporation's foreign currency forward contracts are based on estimated credit-adjusted forward market prices. The fair values of the Corporation's precious metal forward contracts and option contracts are determined using observable market data for precious metals, including spot prices, forward curves and implied volatilities. Valuation techniques incorporate credit-adjusted discount rates and option-pricing models that reflect current market conditions. The Corporation takes counterparty credit risk and its own credit risk into consideration for the fair value of these financial instruments.

ROYAL CANADIAN MINT
NOTES TO THE CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
13 WEEKS ENDED MARCH 28, 2026

(Unaudited) (In thousands of Canadian dollars, unless otherwise indicated)

The table below details the types of derivative financial instruments carried at fair value:

	As at

Foreign currency forwards	$ 774	$ 657

Precious metal forwards	7,432	-
Precious metal options	13,204	7,298
	$ 21,989	$ 9,104

The Corporation enters precious metal forward and option contracts that are subject to legally enforceable master netting agreements with the same counterparty, and the Corporation intends to settle these contracts on a net basis. As a result, these precious metal derivatives are presented on a net basis on the consolidated statement of financial position. Foreign currency forward contracts are not subject to enforceable netting agreements and are therefore presented on a gross basis on the consolidated statement of financial position. The following table reconciles the gross derivative balances to the amounts presented on the consolidated statement of financial position:

8.2.2 Carrying amount and fair value of financial instruments

The carrying amount and fair value of the Corporation's financial assets and financial liabilities are presented in the following table:

	As at
	March 28, 2026		December 31, 2025
	Carrying Amount	Fair Value	Carrying Amount	Fair Value

Derivative financial liabilities:
Foreign currency forwards	$ 1,353	$ 1,353	$ 1,806	$ 1,806

8.2.3 Fair value hierarchy

Financial instruments, other than those that are not subsequently measured at fair value and for which fair value approximates carrying value, whether or not they are carried at fair value in the condensed consolidated statement of financial position, must be disclosed at their fair value and be classified using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements:

- Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e., as prices) or indirectly (i.e., derived from prices)
- Level 3: inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

The fair value measurement of cash was classified as level 1 of the fair value hierarchy as at March 28, 2026 and December 31, 2025. The fair value measurements of all other financial instruments held by the Corporation were classified as level 2 of the fair value hierarchy as at March 28, 2026 and December 31, 2025. There were no transfers of financial instruments between levels for the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026.

8.3 Financial risk management objectives and framework

The Corporation is exposed to credit risk, liquidity risk and market risk from its use of financial instruments.

The Board of Directors has overall accountability for the establishment and oversight of the Corporation's financial risk management framework. The Audit Committee is mandated by the Board of Directors and is responsible for the review, approval and monitoring of the Corporation's financial risk management policies. The Audit Committee reports regularly to the Board of Directors on its activities.

8.3.1 Credit risk management

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Corporation if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations and arises principally from the Corporation's receivables from customers, cash and derivative instruments. The Corporation has a defined know your client and credit assessment process that evaluates the creditworthiness of counterparties as a means of mitigating the risk of financial loss from defaults. The Corporation's exposure and the credit ratings of its counterparties are continuously monitored.

The carrying amount of financial assets recorded in the condensed consolidated financial statements represents the Corporation's maximum credit exposure.

8.3.1.1 Credit risk management of receivables from customers

The Corporation's exposure to credit risk associated with financial trade receivables, net and other financial receivables is influenced mainly by the individual characteristics of each customer, however the Corporation also considers the demographics of its customer base, including the risk associated with the type of customer and country in which the customer operates.

The Corporation manages this risk by monitoring the creditworthiness of customers and obtaining prepayment or other forms of payment security from customers with a high level of credit risk. The Corporation has established processes over contracting with foreign customers in order to manage the risk relating to these customers. The Corporation's management reviews the detailed trade receivable listing on a regular basis for changes in the factors that impact a customer's ability to pay outstanding receivable balances, including changes in a customer's business and the overall economy. An allowance for expected credit losses (ECL) is provided for customer accounts that could present collectability issues.

ROYAL CANADIAN MINT
NOTES TO THE CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(Unaudited) (In thousands of Canadian dollars, unless otherwise indicated)

The Corporation's maximum exposure to credit risk for financial trade receivables, net and other financial receivables by geographic regions was as follows:

	As at
	March 28, 2026	December 31, 2025
Canada	$ 26,955	$ 22,249
Asia and Oceania	12,478	7,691
Europe, Middle East and Africa	7,718	4,316
Latin America and Caribbean	5,152	538
United States	456	507
Total financial trade receivables, net and other financial receivables	$ 52,759	$ 35,301

The maximum exposure to credit risk for financial trade receivables, net and other financial receivables by type of customer was as follows:

	As at
	March 28, 2026	December 31, 2025
Consumers, dealers and others	$ 25,498	$ 14,436
Central and institutional banks	23,020	12,797
Governments (including governmental departments and agencies)	4,241	8,068
Total financial trade receivables, net and other financial receivables	$ 52,759	$ 35,301

The Corporation established an allowance for ECLs based on a provision matrix that reflected the estimated impairment of financial trade receivables, net and other financial receivables at the end of the reporting period. The provision matrix was based on historical observed default rates and was adjusted for forward-looking estimates. The Corporation sets different payment terms depending on the customer and product, and excluding prepayments, the Corporation's standard payment terms are generally 0 to 60 days. As at March 28, 2026, the Corporation's rate of credit losses was less than 1% (2025 – less than 1%) of total financial trade receivables, net and other financial receivables.

8.3.2 Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Corporation will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they fall due. The Corporation manages liquidity risk by continuously monitoring actual and forecasted cash flows to ensure, as far as possible, that it will always have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when due, under both normal and stressed conditions, without incurring unacceptable losses or risking damage to the Corporation's reputation.

8.3.3 Market risk

Market risk is the risk that changes in market prices, such as foreign exchange rates, interest rates or commodity price changes will affect the Corporation's income or the fair value of its financial instruments.

The Corporation uses, from time to time, derivative instruments, such as foreign currency forward contracts, interest rate exchange agreements, commodity swaps, forward contracts and options related to forward contracts to manage its exposure to fluctuations in cash flows resulting from foreign exchange risk, interest rate risk and commodity price risk. The Corporation buys and sells derivatives in the ordinary course of business and all such transactions are carried out within the guidelines set out in established policies. In accordance with the Corporation's policies, derivative instruments are not used for trading or speculative purposes.

8.3.3.1 Foreign exchange risk

The Corporation is exposed to foreign exchange risk on sales and purchase transactions and short-term cash management requirements that are denominated in foreign currencies, primarily in US dollars. The Corporation manages its exposure to exchange rate fluctuations between the foreign currency and the Canadian dollar by entering into foreign currency forward contracts. The Corporation also uses such contracts in managing its overall cash requirements.

8.3.3.2 Interest rate risk

Financial assets and financial liabilities with variable interest rates expose the Corporation to cash flow interest rate risk. As at March 28, 2026, there was no variable interest rate exposure.

Financial assets and financial liabilities that bear interest at fixed rates are subject to fair value interest rate risk. The Corporation's lease liabilities and loan payable expose the Corporation to fair value interest rate risk.

8.3.3.3 Commodity price risk

The Corporation is exposed to commodity price risk on its purchase and sale of precious metals including gold, silver, platinum and palladium and base metals including nickel, copper and steel.

The Corporation is not exposed to precious metal price risk related to its bullion sales program because the purchase and sale of precious metals used in this program are completed on the same date, using the same price basis in the same currency. For numismatic sales, the Corporation enters into fixed-price purchase commitments for precious and base metals, and also utilizes forward contract options to mitigate the impacts of price fluctuations (Note 19.1). The Corporation also enters into short-term leases for precious metals to support the production requirements within its Precious Metals business (Note 19.1). Lease rates are influenced by prevailing market conditions such as interest rates, metal availability and forward market dynamics.

Contracts and transactions that are entered into for the purpose of procuring commodities to be used in production are classified as normal course of business. The Corporation does not procure commodities for trading or speculative purposes.

As at March 28, 2026 the Corporation determined that it continues to be unable to reliably estimate the redemptions of Face Value coins.

The impact of the revaluation of the precious metal component of the liability, excluding the impact from foreign exchange, is presented separately in the condensed consolidated statement of comprehensive income as Face Value revaluation gain. The impact of foreign exchange on the revaluation of the liability was a gain of $2.2 million for the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026 (13 weeks ended March 29, 2025 – loss of $0.4 million). As at March 28, 2026, if all other variables remain constant, a hypothetical 10% appreciation in the market value of silver in Canadian dollars would not have impacted profit for the year (March 29, 2025 – increase of $9.1 million). A hypothetical 10% weakening in the market value of silver in Canadian dollars would have decreased profit for the year by $15.4 million (March 29, 2025 – decrease of $9.1 million).

The current portion of the Face Value redemptions liability is based on the redemptions for the last 12 months, as the Corporation determined that it continues to be unlikely that all outstanding Face Value coins will be redeemed in the next 12 months as Face Value coins are widely held and the redemption process takes time to complete.

The Corporation continues to monitor the redemption levels of Face Value coins to ensure requisite funding for future redemptions is maintained.

14. EMPLOYEE COMPENSATION AND BENEFITS

Pension benefits

Substantially all of the employees of the Corporation are covered by the Public Service Pension plan, a contributory defined benefit plan established through legislation and sponsored by the Government of Canada. The Corporation made total contributions of $2.2 million in the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026 (13 weeks ended March 29, 2025 - $2.1 million).

See Note 17 in the audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025 for details of the Corporation's pension and other post-employment benefit plans, including the sensitivity analysis of the impact of changes in the discount rate on the employee benefit liabilities.

For the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026 and March 29, 2025, the revenue earned from significant customers is reported in the Precious Metals business and in the primary geographic regions of North America.

15.3 Transaction price allocated to the remaining performance obligations

The following table includes revenue expected to be recognized in the future related to performance obligations that were unsatisfied, or partially unsatisfied, as at March 28, 2026:

	2026	2027	Total
Total revenue	$ 157,480	$ 51,293	$ 208,773

The Corporation has other contracts with terms longer than 12 months that include unsatisfied performance obligations that are dependent on volumes. The associated revenue from these contracts, as well as any volume dependent components in other contracts, have not been recorded as the Corporation cannot reliably measure the unsatisfied performance obligations. Under these contracts, customers have the option to increase or decrease the volume over the terms of their respective contracts and therefore, the unsatisfied performance obligation, would be impacted by this decision.

18. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Corporation is related in terms of common ownership to all Government of Canada owned entities. The Corporation enters into transactions with these entities in the normal course of business, under the same terms and conditions that apply to unrelated parties. In accordance with the disclosure exemption regarding “government related entities”, the Corporation is exempt from certain disclosure requirements of IAS 24 – Related Party Disclosures relating to its transactions and outstanding balances with:

- a government that has control, joint control or significant influence over the reporting entity; and
- another entity that is a related party because the same government has control, joint control or significant influence over both the reporting entity and the other entity.

Transactions with related parties that are considered to be individually or collectively significant, include transactions with the Government of Canada, and departments thereof and all federal Crown corporations.

The majority of transactions with the Government of Canada were with the Department of Finance related to the production, management and delivery of Canadian circulation coins which are governed by the terms outlined in the memorandum of understanding which is effective from January 1, 2022 to December 31, 2025, and will remain in effect until a new memorandum of understanding is executed.

The transactions with Department of Finance were as follows:

During the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026 and March 29, 2025, the majority of transactions with Crown corporations were for the sale of numismatic products.

19. COMMITMENTS, CONTINGENCIES AND GUARANTEES

19.1 Precious metal and other commitments

In order to facilitate the production of precious metal coins and manage the risks associated with changes in metal prices, the Corporation may enter into firm fixed-price purchase commitments, as well as precious metal leases and supply arrangements for precious metal bullion products. As at March 28, 2026, the Corporation had $18.4 million in outstanding firm fixed-price precious metal purchase commitments and firm commitments for precious metal bullion product supply arrangements, including sourcing costs (December 31, 2025 – $138.5 million).

At the end of the period, the Corporation had entered into precious metal leases as follows:

Ounces	As at
	March 28, 2026	December 31, 2025
Gold	421,063	584,000
Silver	572,599	2,600,000
Platinum	1,899	2,793

NOTES TO THE CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
13 WEEKS ENDED MARCH 28, 2026

(Unaudited) (In thousands of Canadian dollars, unless otherwise indicated)

The fees for these leases are based on the market value. Precious metal lease payments of $3.7 million for the 13 weeks ended March 28, 2026 were recognized through cost of sales (March 29, 2025 - $9.1 million). The value of the metals under these leases is not reflected in the Corporation's condensed consolidated financial statements as stated in note 3.2.5 of the audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025.

As at March 28, 2026, the total estimated minimum remaining future commitments were as follows:

	2026	2027	2028	2029	2030	Total
Other commitments	$ 35,736	$ 5,122	$ 492	$ 77	$ 12	$ 41,439
Base metal commitments	18,933	-	-	-	-	18,933

Total	$ 57,325	$ 5,122	$ 492	$ 77	$ 12	$ 63,028

Other commitments include the non-lease components of leases of right-of-use assets and firm contracts with suppliers for goods and services, excluding precious metals commitments.

Base metal commitments are firm fixed-price purchase commitments that are entered into in order to facilitate the production of circulation and non-circulation coins for Canada and other countries, and to manage the risks associated with changes in metal prices.

Property, plant and equipment commitments are firm purchase obligations related to the acquisition of capital assets. These commitments are entered into to support the Corporation's ongoing operations, modernization initiatives, and long-term investment in property, plant and equipment.

19.2 Trade finance bonds, bank guarantees and contingencies

The Corporation has various outstanding bank guarantees and trade finance bonds associated with the production of foreign circulation coin contracts. These were issued in the normal course of business. The guarantees and bonds are delivered under standby facilities available to the Corporation through various financial institutions. Performance guarantees have remaining terms of one to thirteen months depending on the applicable contract, while warranty guarantees have remaining terms of up to sixteen months. Bid bonds have remaining terms of four months, depending on the length of the bid period for the applicable contract. The various contracts to which these guarantees or bid bonds apply generally have terms ranging from one to three years. An advance payment guarantee has a remaining term of one to three months. Any potential payments that might become due under these commitments would relate to the Corporation's non-performance under the applicable contract. The Corporation does not anticipate any material payments will be required in the future. As at March 28, 2026, under the guarantees, the maximum potential amount of future payments is $11.5 million (December 31, 2025 - $11.5 million).

In addition, from time to time, there are various legal claims against the Corporation. Claims that are uncertain in terms of the outcome or potential outflow or that are not measurable are considered to be a contingency and are not recognized in the Corporation's condensed consolidated financial statements. It is not expected that any of these claims, individually or in aggregate, will result in a settlement that could have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's financial results. There was no provision for potential legal obligations as at March 28, 2026 and December 31, 2025.

Other than the changes noted above, there have been no other material changes to the Corporation's commitments, contingencies and guarantees since December 31, 2025.
